

WOMEN'S LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

Many organizations fail to exploit the distinctive value-add generated by top level female managers. Despite strong empirical evidence that firms which have positioned women in key leadership roles achieve better (financial) results, Women Leaders remain a minority.

The Women's Leadership Academy aims to maximize the participants' leadership effectiveness, through a unique combination of coaching, networking, analytical reflection and tailor-made personal development. With peers from all over the world, senior female managers are equipped with the necessary intellectual tools to break through that infamous "glass-ceiling", creating sustainable value for their respective organizations.
